RICHMOND

Warm Defense

Of Richmond and her Police Department Made by Ex-Mayor Woods.

The following red hot rejoinder to the disparaging editorial on Richmond by the Shelby Record, gives facts and figures that are timely and illuminating. Jude Greenleaf's court record, which is attacked, supports the following statement from the Ex-Mayor:

Richmond, Ky., Jan. 27, '11
Editor Shelby Sentinel,

My dear Mr. Shinnick:—My attention is directed to your disparaging remarks upon the police court report of Richmond, a "dry town," for the year 1910, which shows a total of 294 arrests during the year, of which 98 were for drunkenness, 41, drunk and disorderly and 23 for violation of local option laws. You say:

"That the fight against the liquor traffic and the traffic itself is still in the forefront, is evidenced by the above report."

Will you kindly publish my reply to the above? Richmond has now been without her twelve high license ($1,000 each) saloons for three and a half years. The town has grown 1,000 almost in population, and yet we had 440 fewer arrests for all of drunkenness the past year than during the last year with open saloons, when we had 602; this year past only 102. Is that not a splendid showing? Be honest, Ed!

Furthermore, during the last year with open saloons we arrested a total of 129 drunks on 12 county court days, and yet during the recent 365 days of the year 1910, only 102 on liquor charges. Is that not a splendid showing? Be honest, Ed!

Another thing: There were arrested on liquor charges during the last year under open saloons, 602 violators, and yet in the three and a half years of "dry" times, we are still 100 arrests short of that last single year. Is not that a splendid showing? Be honest, Ed!

Again: You remark truly that 162 out of a total of 294, or 60 per cent. of our arrests for last year were on liquor charges! Does that not prove to the wettest advocate in Shelby that liquor is at the bottom of three-fifths of our whole, entire category of public disorder, as proven by our police records? Then, Ed, would you have us increase that proportion to our old figures, by reopening the licensed saloon? I am sure Shelbyville will never attain to the summit of her splendid possibilities until she follows the course of Richmond and closes her saloons, and elects a Council that will choose police officers whom the indignant Mayor will not have to denounce publicly as unworthy to wear the badge of authority, as your good Mayor did through your own excellent paper not many months since.

The large fines your City Judge assesses are taken from unfortunates who can ill spare it. We do get less fines, because we have less drunkenness. Which is the better. Don't drop this in the waste basket but print it as the reply to your disparaging remarks upon our Police Court and its Judge. No matter what your further remarks may be. Just let the Record's readers see both sides and judge between mob-bred den Shelbyville, and peaceful, progressive, contended, growing Richmond.

Your friend,
C. E. Woods.

The article which inspired the above is as follows:

IN CLARENCE WOOD'S TOWN.
(Shelby Record.)

"Richmond, Ky., the home of Hon. Clarence Woods, who, as its Mayor, made quite a reputation for strenuousness in his fight against the liquor traffic, makes a showing of the arrests that were made during the past year. That the fight against the traffic and that the traffic itself is still in the forefront is evidenced by the report. There was a total of 294 arrests during the year. Of these, 98 were for drunkenness, 41 for drunkenness and disorderly and 23 for a violation of local option law, a total out of 294 in which 'I was the cause of the an A bad showing for Richmond as only $1,400 was lected as fines against those who were arrested, it they need a Police Judge, there like our Judge K bacher."

Have you Received It?

There is another endless chain started, this time it is a prayer, which is to be copied by the receiver and sent to nine different friends in as many days. The letter is as follows and has been received by several Richmond people:

"Our Lord Jesus, we implore Thee to bless all mankind, keep us from evil by thy precious blood and take us to dwell with Thee." It is said in Jerusalem, the Holy City, that he who will not write this prayer will meet with some great misfortune and he who will write it for nine days in succession, beginning the day it is received, shall have great joy on the ninth day and shall be delivered from calamity. Do not break the chain. Send each prayer to some friend. Sign neither name nor address but copy every word of this letter. Wish for that which is nearest your heart when you write and send the prayer on its message of joy to others and success to yourself."

Reminder.
A handsome $20 clock which was owned by Mr. Dan Beck for writing more in Kentucky than all other counties for the Massachusetts Mutual life insurance company, mostly because it chimes every hour, a sweet reminder of the fact that it is not an alarm clock.

Reversed.
The Madison circuit court was reversed last week in the case of Castle v. Hockaday by the Court of Appeals. The case grew out of a dispute over the right to occupy a tract of land near Victory Springs. Judge John Chennault reversed the appellant and Smith & Smith the appellee.

Two More.
Deputy Marshall Billy Mays brought two more men to jail here charged with violating the internal revenue laws. This makes four that the officer has discovered in the quiet little county of Booneville, illegally handling out the sale of the corn.

It is made of eucalyptus and other grand antiseptics. It will chase away the misery of catarrh or any affliction of the nose and throat in a few minutes.

Elks
Hold One of the Most Interesting Sessions in Years, Friday Evening.

Friday night was a big night in Elksdom, for ten candidates were shown thru the mysteries and the members, especially the older ones, were given some real pleasure in witnessing the proceedings. One of the largest crowds that has ever assembled on such an occasion was present and the expert degree team of the Richmond lodge was never in better form.

Those that stood the test and are now real Elks are Earl Curtis, Paul Burnam, Wm. Millard, James Conway, Otto Powers, McCarty, Simmons, Orie Harber, Prof. Kelley, of the City Schools, Harry Rybee and James Cleary. It was a "Tenderfoot" lot, as none of the candidates had ever had the experience of witnessing the initiatory work of a secret order.

The exercises began at eight o'clock and it was near midnight before the banquet table was reached. As usual, a sumptuous spread was prepared in honor of the candidates and it was one of the best that has ever been spread at the club on a similar occasion. The season's best was none too good and the committee spared no expense in making this part of the program one long to be remembered by the candidates, as well as the mysteries of the secret work.

Judge Brown and G. W. Rider, of Mt. Vernon, both members of Richmond lodge were present, and Mr. Longmiller, of New Albany, Ind., lodge, and others from a distance. Judge James Benton, who is a member of Winchester lodge, was expected but was detained on account of the fish trial at Nicholasville.

Judge Angry.
Judge Shackelford is very uneasy for fear he will be deprived of his turnip greens this year. A drove of chickens which he claims are not his property, have been watching the bed in his garden for several days and as fast as a sprout sticks its tiny head above the ground it goes by some old hen. This is a favorite dish of the Judge's and he is anxious to get the first mess before the price of eggs gets to soaring again.

Paris Gets It.
The Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company has closed a deal with the Paris Electric Light Company for furnishing the electric current for operating the new telephone system of dispatching trains on this division of the road. The lighting company has just finished the installation of new and powerful machinery for the purpose at its plant opposite the Louisville & Nashville station in that city.

Great Movement.
The Men's Bible Classes which have been organized in several of the local churches, under the International movement, are making great headway and are expected to result in the Methodist, Christian and East End Christian churches are growing and the members are doing a little missionary work throughout the city in gathering together all men who are not in the habit of attending Sunday school. The classes are for men only. At the Main street Christian church last Sunday 290 pupils were in attendance, a remarkable showing, which included the Men's Bible Class.

Louis Loses.
Under the ruins of the Omnibus bill, which was thrown overboard by Congress several days ago, is a claim made by Mr. Louis Landrum, formerly of this city, for $4,750 due his father's estate as an employee of the government. Mr. Landrum has been pushing this claim for years, but it seems that there is always something to hinder the payment of these just debts. Senator Bradley notified Mr. Landrum sometime ago that there were bright prospects for getting the money at this term but it seems that "Louie" must now wait in definitely.

Should Run.
A report from Stanford is to the effect that Hon. William Shanks may not run for Representative at the next term of the General Assembly. Lincoln county has never had such an energetic representative and the state has never had a more capable law making body. The newspapers, especially, are indebted to him for timely service in their behalf and should be a member every paper in Kentucky will support him for the Speakership. Madison county too is all the more anxious for him to continue as he is so well known here. Mrs. Shanks was formerly Miss Lena Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baldwin.

Sudden Death.
While sitting at the supper table at Memorial Hall, at the Normal School last Tuesday evening, M. D. Gilliland, a resident of Shoptville, Pulaski county, fell from his chair and expired in a few minutes. Physicians were hurriedly summoned, but he was dead before they arrived. His sudden demise was due to apoplexy. His remains were taken in charge by Bennett & Hockaday and prepared for burial and later sent to his home accompanied by several students. Gilliland was 48 years of age and was one of the oldest teachers in that section of the state. He was taking a special course at the Normal. A wife and several children survive him.

Speed's Talk.
The students of the Normal and the town people, enjoyed one of the most instructive lectures that has ever come to the school last Saturday, afternoon and evening. James Speed, of Louisville, a noted educator, gave an illustrated lecture on the history of the state. Although many of his facts were disparaging to Kentucky on account of the poor showing that had been made by this state along educational yet he brought out the good news that educational organizations were making wonderful strides and were fast doing away with antiquated school houses and methods.

Court Day.
Monday was a corker in point of attendance of the court day crowd, as well as the amount and class of stock offered for sale. About fifty mules changed hands at prices $150.00 to $200.00 and single mules sold from $20.00 to $225. Bidding was lively, much more than was expected on account of the high prices and the owners held out for the top price. At the Madison stock yards Manager Joe Embury reports one of the best court days in years, in fact the highest prices for cattle in twenty years, yearlings selling from $10.00 to $15.00 and beefs $8.00 to $10.00. Hogs were plentiful and sold at 8 cents. Practically all of the stock were shipped out of the county and much of it out of the state.

Will Make Hay.
The Haymakers, an auxiliary organization, in the Red Men's lodge, will shortly be instituted in this city in connection with Floating Canoe Tribe, now one of the most flourishing in the state. The Haymakers are a jolly lot who have nothing but fun in their doings at all times. The obligation as laid down in their ritual is made so impressive that it is claimed the candidate never forgets it, tho he lives a hundred years afterwards. Only those who have been regularly initiated in Redmenhood, can be a Haymaker.

City Council
Holds Regularly Monthly Meeting Last Thursday Evening.

The regular meeting of the City Council last Thursday evening brought out all members, excepting Councilman Todd and the only thing of importance that came before the body was a motion to permit the Managers of the local opera house to run a special set of pictures on Sundays. On roll call the motion carried, Councilmen Sexton, Leavelle and Berry voting for it and Covington and Stone against. After looking into the question Mayor Rice vetoed it in the following official document:

Richmond, Ky., Feb. 1911.
A. B. Paris, City Clerk.

Dear Sir:—By authority vested in me as Mayor of Richmond, Ky. By section 2503 Carroll's Statutes, I hereby veto the resolution passed by the city council at the regular monthly meeting Feb. 2nd, 1911 permitting Wines & Baxter to operate a Moving Picture Show at the Opera House in this city on Sundays as I believe the exhibition of pictures on Sunday would be a detriment to the morals of the community.

Samuel Rice, Mayor.

It can be passed over the Mayor's veto by a two thirds vote of the members, but it is not known whether an attempt will be made or not. Councilman Todd was not present, but a representative of the Cinema said he would have voted "No", which would have then put the question up to the Mayor for the deciding vote.

All property owners who have been notified to rebuild the pavements in front of their premises and several others who were notified this week, must get busy as Mayor Rice has set a given time if the work is not started, then the city will take it up at the expense of the property owner. Concrete pavement was ordered from "Jas." corner running to the Federal building. The Finance committee reported all bills against the city O. K. and the council passed them, which composed the routine business.

AN EXPLANATION.
Manager Baxter called at the Climax opera yesterday, after being notified of the veto, and said that from the general expression he was of the opinion that the intentions of the opera house managers were misunderstood. He said that Sunday opening was only intended for three or four Biblical pictures, which were too long to be run in connection with the regular program on week nights and also because sacred pictures such as "The Passion Play," "Life of Christ" and "Life of Israel" are never "sandwiched" in with vaudeville programs any place. These pictures, he said are strictly Sunday pictures and are run in many of the churches throughout the country. Another Sunday picture which is used in many places is the Red Cross reel, showing how the fight against Tuberculosis is progressing.

Fiscal Court.
The Fiscal court is holding an important session today and bids for turnpikes are being carefully read and acted on.

Passion Play.
The great Passion Play will be given at the opera house, matinee and evening, next Saturday, the 11th. Bargain prices will prevail. A wonderful reel.

Held Over.
Albert Sandlin was held over to the grand jury in the sum of $500 for shooting and wounding Russell Winkler several days ago in this city. Winkler is improving and the physicians say he will recover if complications do not set in.

BIRTHS.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker are entertaining a fine daughter at their home on Main street. She has been named Mary Wilkerson.

Lost or Stolen.
Bay mare about twelve years old weigh about 1,100 lbs. star in forehead, saddle mark on left side. Disappeared from my place on Thursday, Feb. 2nd. I will pay liberally for her return to 411 West Walnut St., Richmond, Ky.

Come Home to Roost.
W. T. King, the old original 5 and 10 cts store man of Lexington many years ago, who afterwards lived in this county for several years, then moving to Garrard, was among his friends here several days the first of the week. With his family he completed moving back to Madison county where he says he expects to spend the rest of his days.

Excellent.
If Kyrie Bellow, the eminent actor, who made "The Thief" one of the really great plays that it is could have been at the Richmond opera house last Monday evening and witnessed the part that made him famous, which was handled in masterly style by James Heenan, an underling, he would have been compelled to acknowledge his highest approval. Also Edna Crawford as Marie, is a star and handled the difficult part of "The Thief" in as true a dramatic style as any of her predecessors of note in this particular part of this great play. The company was a capable one and the performance was one of the highest class witnessed here in years.

Fish Trial.
After a trial lasting a week, in which was brought out some of the most sensational testimony ever recorded in the state, Grover Fish was acquitted of the charge of murder in the Jessamine circuit court last Saturday morning. Every resident of this county is familiar with the case. For the prosecution was Commonwealth Attorney B. A. Crutcher, Hon. A. Floyd Byrd, of Winchester; Hon. John H. Welch, of Nicholasville and Hon. Lewis Cobb, Richmond. For the defense, Hon. J. A. Sullivan, of Lexington, assisted by C. C. and S. N. Wallace, A. R. Burnam, Jr., of Richmond, and Hon. N. L. Brogan, of Nicholasville. Probably no case has been tried in this section in years that has attracted so much interest, unless it was the Arnold-Little trial. Nicholas transferred from Madison county. The following gentlemen composed the jury: J. H. Lane, C. C. Glas, G. M. Corman, John Deane, Walter Davis, David Bell, Allen McDowell, W. R. Lear, John Taylor, Ed Watta, R. Lee Blackford and John Woolley.

Bright Girl.
Elizabeth, the twelve year old daughter of County Clerk R. B. Terrill is an accomplished little Miss in the art of playwriting. Several weeks ago she decided to write a play and give the parts to her young friends who might be induced to start a dramatic club. She went at it and within a remarkably short time had six or seven parts and some exceedingly clever lines to a three act melodrama entitled "The Follies of 1818." The play dealt with western life and the different characters were ably handled by several of her young friends, whose ages averaged about twelve years. Many of the "grown up" folks witnessed the show and declare the plot was cleverly drawn out and displayed in the lines of the play, a remarkable feat for one so young.

Found.
Pocketbook containing "bills" watch on Lexington pike about five miles from Richmond. Owner can have same by proving property and paying for this ad.

Rapid Growth.
The business of the East Tennessee Telephone Co. in Richmond and Madison county has grown so rapidly under the supervision of Manager H. H. Floyd that it was found necessary to install an additional section of switchboard in order to accommodate the many orders for new telephones in the city and throughout the county. This additional section of switchboard will enable the company to serve 1,000 subscribers from its Richmond exchange. The work of the installation of this new board was carried on by Mr. W. K. Broadwell, District Inspector with headquarters at Lexington, and Mr. E. C. Terrill, electrician and cableman of the Lexington district. Manager Floyd is one of the faithful employees of the East Tennessee Telephone Co., who shows more than ordinary ability in the handling of that Company's affairs, and stands high in the estimation of the officials. He has been connected with the company about eleven years.

DEATHS.
The death of Calvin Maupin, which occurred Sunday morning at his home on Estill Ave., in this city, will be received with universal regret by a wide acquaintance throughout the county. Deceased was in his seventy-fourth year and had been a resident of Madison all his life. He served in the Confederate army with distinction and went through the four years of war as one of the bravest soldiers who ever enlisted for the Lost Cause. Besides his wife he is survived by four children: Dr. Malcolm Maupin, of Cincinnati, Carlisle Maupin, of this city, Mrs. Dan Hildale, of Corbin and Mrs. Everett Clarke, of Paris, and four brothers, Eli Maupin, of Madison and three in the west, with two sisters, Mrs. Kit Todd and Mrs. Mary Woolery, of this county. The funeral services were conducted at the Second Christian church Monday morning by his pastor, Rev. Raynor, and interment followed in Richmond cemetery.

Says Its Best.
Col. "A. J." Leavelle, of Garrard county, who has tried the Danville and Lexington tobacco markets, says the Richmond markets are the best. He disposed of a big crop on the local breaks last Thursday and incidentally sent a few dollars with Richmond merchants.

Election Leaders Must Be Making a Very Still Fight.

What must be a very still campaign, if any at all is being waged, possibly here among the supporters for the west as well as the "dry." Although the election is but three weeks off, not a circular has been issued nor a speech made by either side, in fact the leaders for both the "wets" and the "drys" are not even boasting their contentions on the sidewalks or in the favor of the bonding of the "dry" men. The people are wondering why this lack of interest, especially on the part of the local option forces, who are generally the most aggressive and the first to start the fight. A special registration for this election has been called by the County Judge for next Friday, the 17th, and the election has been set for Friday March 3rd.

T. B. Adams, of Fayette county, one of the leading farmers of that section was here court day. Mr. Adams is a noted jack man and is also an enthusiastic Burley pool man.

Bright Girl.
Elizabeth, the twelve year old daughter of County Clerk R. B. Terrill is an accomplished little Miss in the art of playwriting. Several weeks ago she decided to write a play and give the parts to her young friends who might be induced to start a dramatic club. She went at it and within a remarkably short time had six or seven parts and some exceedingly clever lines to a three act melodrama entitled "The Follies of 1818." The play dealt with western life and the different characters were ably handled by several of her young friends, whose ages averaged about twelve years. Many of the "grown up" folks witnessed the show and declare the plot was cleverly drawn out and displayed in the lines of the play, a remarkable feat for one so young.

Rapid Growth.
The business of the East Tennessee Telephone Co. in Richmond and Madison county has grown so rapidly under the supervision of Manager H. H. This additional section of switchboard will enable the company to serve 1,000 subscribers from its Richmond exchange. The work of the installation of this new board was carried on by Mr. W. K. Broadwell, District Inspector with headquarters at Lexington, and Mr. E. C. Terrill, electrician and cableman of the Lexington district. Manager Floyd is one of the faithful employees of the East Tennessee Telephone Co., who shows more than ordinary ability in the handling of that Company's affairs, and stands high in the estimation of the officials. He has been connected with the company about eleven years.

There is More to Paint than the color. When you paint don't just select the shade and let it go as that. Make sure also that you are using paint that will wear, continue to look well, hold its color long, stay on the job and give good honest service. It takes paint like the brands we sell to give service like this.
